PHOENIX, Ariz. — (May 29, 2007) Associated Asset Management (AAM), Arizona's premier community association management company, has expanded with a satellite office in Surprise to more conveniently serve its clients in the fast-growing West Valley.

The office, located at 14780 W. Mountain View Blvd., Ste. 111, is headed by Regional Director of West Valley Operations Kathy Johnson.

Fifteen staff members will be on hand to answer homeowner questions, collect homeowner association payments and oversee operations in the residential communities AAM manages in the West Valley, including Trilogy at Vistancia, Sun City Festival, Festival Foothills, Palm Valley II and III, Sundance, Canyon Trails and White Tank Foothills. The office also offers two large conference rooms available for board meetings.

"The West Valley is a booming residential market and a growing segment of our business is conducted there," said AAM President Amanda Shaw. "We recognize a need to be where our clients are, and we're excited to strengthen our physical presence in the West Valley." All accounting and processing functions will continue to run through the company's headquarters in Phoenix.
